

Sturgeon Hospital officially opened today

When official opening ceremonies for the 100-bed Sturgeon General Hospital are completed this afternoon and district citizens are invited to tour the two-million dollar hospital, there is little doubt they'll be impressed with what they see.

Situated on 10 acres of property overlooking the Sturgeon Valley and the town of St. Albert, the four-storey red brick building commands a striking view in every direction.

The hospital faces north in anticipation of growth of the town in that direction and also to provide easy access from country areas. A road connecting the hospital with Highway No. 2 is planned for the near future.

Since the formation of the hospital board in 1965, five years of planning, negotiating and building have gone into the completion of the attractive, ultra-modern building equipped with the latest in furnishings and medical equipment.

A 50-bed hospital was first authorized by the government but this was changed to a 100-bed hospital following prolonged negotiations with the department of health.

Construction of the 70,000 square foot building began in November, 1968. Architects for the hospital are Rule, Wynn, Forbes, Lord and Partners and the contractor is Harasm Construction of St. Albert.

The north central portion of the main floor is devoted to the entrance lobby, admitting rooms, administrative offices and doctors' lounge. The kitchen, laundry and cafeteria occupy the east side of the main floor.

A west-side emergency entrance leads to three examination rooms and emergency treatment room. The pharmacy and laboratory are also located in this area. X-ray and physiotherapy departments complete this wing so that outpatients may be processed completely in this one area of the hospital.

The south-central portion of the main floor is devoted to the operating suite with its three operating theatres, anaesthetic induction room and recovery room. The central sterile supply area adjoins the operating theatre.

The second floor contains the maternity section with 20 beds in private, semi-private and four-bed wards. There are 16 bassinets in two nurseries and a suspect nursery where babies born outside the hospital are observed for 48 hours. Two

Four busy years for hospital administrator

"Total involvement" is a phrase much in vogue these days -- and for people who have in any way been associated with Sturgeon General Hospital Administrator Gordon Townend over the past four years, there's been an opportunity to see total involvement in action.

Since his appointment to the post of administrator in June, 1966 Mr. Townend's every thought and effort has been focused on this day -- official opening day for the hospital.

Involved in some way in every facet of planning, construction, equipping and staffing the hospital, the past four years have gone quickly for him -- too quickly in many cases, he says, as deadline after deadline had to be met in a crowded schedule of events leading up to opening day.

Working closely with members of the board of trustees, the medical advisory committee, the architects and contractor, the chief administrative officer of the two-million dollar hospital has functioned until recently as a staff of one, implementing board policies and overseeing every step in the process of turning plans and dreams into reality.

Hundreds of meetings, endless negotiations with the provincial government, ordering of everything from paper clips to specialized medical equipment, speaking engagements, advertising and interviewing staff -- they've all been part of the complicated business of putting together a hospital.

In handling the myriad details involved in readying the hospital to receive patients August 17, Mr. Townend has been able to fall back on many years experience in hospitals both in Canada and England.

Born and educated in Rotherham, Yorkshire, England, he began his career "straight from school" as a clerk in Cheltenham Hospital Gloucestershire.

He gained experience in all phases of hospital administration through a series of moves to hospitals in various parts of England and at 27, was appointed administrator of the 245-bed South Lodge Hospital, Winchmore Hill, London. Mr. Townend remained in this position for three and one-half years until coming to Canada in 1954.

His career in hospital administration in Canada began in Swift Current where he was appointed administrator of the Swift Current Union Hospital, a post he maintained for five years.

In 1959 Mr. Townend became administrator of Prince George Regional Hospital where he was involved in extension and remodelling of that establishment. From January 1965 until taking up his present position in June, 1966, he was administrator of the Lethbridge Municipal Hospital.

Mr. Townend is an associate member of the Institute of Hospital Administrators, London and a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators.

Able to share his interest in hospitals is Mr. Townend's wife a registered nurse employed at Charles Cammell Hospital in Edmonton. The Townends have three children.

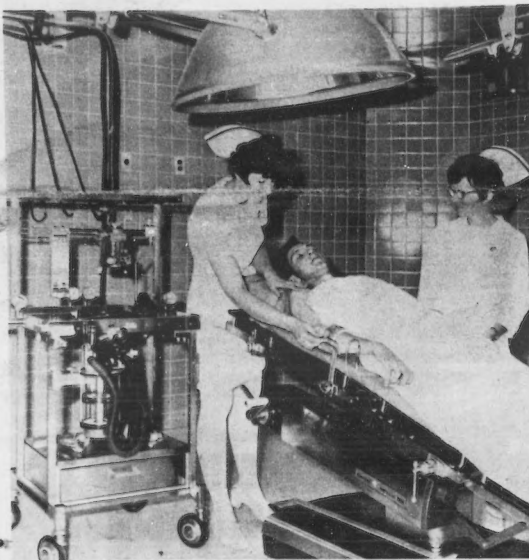

Commenting on the administrator's contribution to the completion of the 100-bed hospital, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the hospital, J. William Flynn said: "His advice and experience have been invaluable and have saved us much money."

Possibly the only facet of the whole operation that Mr. Townend wasn't in on was the move from the hospital's temporary office in the St. Albert Firehall -- his base of operations for a three-year period -- to the ad-

Hospital has new phone No.

Administrator Gordon Townend has announced that a switchboard has now been installed in the Sturgeon General Hospital and that the new number is 599-5501.

Mrs. Helene Woodward, operating room co-ordinator prepares perineal patient James Van Klaveren for surgery in one of the operating suite's three operating theatres. Assisting is Mrs. Kim Tomlin, operating room nurse. The anaesthetic machine stands ready for use at Mrs. Woodward's side. District residents who toured the hospital this afternoon following official opening ceremonies had an opportunity to view the ultra-modern hospital from top to bottom.

Seven-member board sees plans achieved

Ceremonies marking the official opening of the Sturgeon General Hospital today have special significance for a group of seven men who have spent the past several years guiding the project from the planning stages through to its present reality.

They are members of the board of trustees of the hospital, representing the four wards of Hospital District

No. 100 -- an area which takes in most of the Municipal District of Sturgeon.

The MD of Sturgeon is represented by three board members, the Village of Legal by one, the Town of Morinville by one and the Town of St. Albert by two members.

All active in the life of their respective communities, board members have managed the time over the past five years to attend the hundreds of board and committee meetings required to envisage, plan, build and shape overall policy for an ultra-modern hospital which would best serve the needs of the 30,000 people living in the hospital district.

Chairman of the board since its inception in 1965, has been J. William Flynn, one of the members representing the MD of Sturgeon.

Town, M.D., and U. Board to meet

Mayor R. M. Gibbon has announced that a meeting between members of town council and the Athabasca University Governing Authority has been set for Aug. 13.

The meeting will also include representatives of the Municipal District of Sturgeon.

It is expected that discussion will centre around the possibilities of co-operating on the servicing of the university site located three miles northeast of St. Albert.

labor rooms and a delivery room, a fathers' waiting room (deliberately small as fathers are encouraged to sit with wives during labor) and a maternity patient dining room are also included in this area.

A separate examining room is included in each of the nursing floors.

The third floor is devoted to medical patients (those not requiring surgery) and includes a four-bed intensive care unit which hospital spokesmen say is unusual for a hospital of this size.

The top floor is divided between surgical and pediatric with the two departments staffed separately.

Each floor contains an auditorium offering a view of the valley and Big Lake area.

The hospital is built on a twin-corridor design with access to central utility areas from either side of the building. Two elevators are also centrally located for use of both patients and visitors.

The hospital is completely air-conditioned and wired for music.

Many of the expected 165 staff members are already on the job and it is expected that initial staff requirements will be complete by the time the hospital begins accepting patients, Aug. 17.

Following afternoon ceremonies at the hospital site at which A. O. Aalborg, provincial treasurer was to officiate, refreshments and tours of the hospital were planned.

Tonight's celebration of the official opening will take the form of a dinner and dance at the Edmonton Inn. All interested area residents have been invited to attend.

ministrative wing of the new hospital, and it wasn't by choice that he missed out on this. The pace finally began to tell and at the time of the move in early April this year, he was busy gaining a new kind of hospital experience -- as a patient recovering from a bout of pneumonia.

Mr. Townend is looking forward to the day when every detail in the establishing of the new hospital has been finalized and the whole unit is functioning smoothly "to give the best possible patient care."

Then he'll be able to concentrate on the day-to-day problems of running the district's first hospital -- an establishment that will employ over 165 people.

Managing a smile despite the hectic pace that's preceded hospital opening day, is Mrs. Florence Jordan, secretary to Administrator Gordon Townend and Director of Nursing Miss Betty Drury.

St. Albert wins Drayton Tourney

Third baseman Danny Roberge came up with some sparkling defensive plays and hit a double to score the winning runs as St. Albert Drive-In defeated Spruce Grove 8-5, and won $80 in the final game of the Drayton Valley Fastball tournament last Sunday.

The Drive-In had an earlier 10-5 come from behind victory over Drayton Valley to reach the finals and Spruce Grove shut out Stony Plain 8-0 to enter.

Dwayne Hamilton came on in relief to pick up both St. Albert wins.

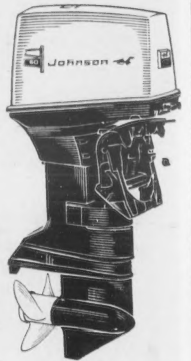

The Drive-In travel to Sanguo this weekend for more tournament action.

Drive in team evens playoffs

With the bases loaded in the last inning and the Drive-In down 5-3, winning pitcher Dick Bird hit a tremendous shot to the Spruce Grove second baseman who could not field the ball and before he could recover, St. Albert scored three runs for a final 6-5 victory. This evens the best of three series of the Sturgeon Fastball League.

Mike Hampel hit a two-run, home run for the winners in the second inning to tie the score three all. Losing pitcher Wally Gamble had an excellent game with 12 strike outs. Final game will be played Friday, Aug. 7 at Spruce Grove.

EXPOS FANS KAREN AND DARREL REGIMBALD
...with Bank of Montreal Manager Maurice Gerwing

Bank encourages fans

Youthful rooters for the Montreal Expos abound in St. Albert, according to Bank of Montreal Manager Maurice Gerwing.

Karen and Darrel Regimbald of 37 Sheridan Drive are just two of the 500-odd youngsters from St. Albert who have joined the Bank of Montreal Young Expos Club.

Only qualifications to join the club, promoted across Canada through local branches of the bank, is that you be under 16 and love the Montreal Expos. Response in St. Albert has been outstanding, said Mr. Gerwing, far greater than at any of the other branches in which he has served.

Young baseball fans are invited to join the club through registering at the bank. They receive a membership card and letter of welcome from Rusty Staub, club president, reduced admission to Jarry Park for youngsters lucky enough to be in Montreal during baseball season, a regular newsletter outlining activities of the Expos and special offers of Young Expos accessories.

A shipment of 80 Expos baseball caps quickly disappeared when word got about that they were available at the bank to members of the club, said Mr. Gerwing. There weren't nearly enough—but amongst lucky club members were Karen and Darrel.

"We watch every game on TV," said Karen. "They're doing better now," her brother added. "They got out of the bottom of the standings." Maybe it's a result of the moral support they're getting from young St. Albert fans.

Curling Rink Sees Summer Action

St. Albert Curling Club is making good use of the off season to spruce-up the downstairs interior of the rink.

Bill Bird was contracted to paint the large area surrounding the ice-surface and the now gleaming white walls have made an amazing improvement, giving the whole rink a new lift. Sheet dividers will be painted red and new improved benches installed on them, along with new style ash stands.

Work is also going forward on the downstairs waiting room. The door to the ice surface has been moved from the centre to the right end. This will allow much better viewing of the curling and a new window is going in where the door had been.

Spectators will get another bonus next season too. Three rows of tiered theatre seats will be installed downstairs, thanks to a smart purchase

Hospital admission priority explained

Residents of Hospital District 100 — an area which comprises most of the Municipal District of Sturgeon except for a small portion which belongs to the Fort Saskatchewan Hospital District — will have priority over those outside the district when it comes to admission to the new Sturgeon General Hospital. An exception would be in the case of emergency.

"An emergency patient would never be refused admission to the hospital," said Administrator Gordon Townsend.

Doctors who do not practice in the hospital district but who have patients residing in the district will apply for courtesy privileges in the hospital," Mr. Townsend explained.

To ensure that the patient gets adequate medical attention — which includes a visit from a physician every day — the out-of-town doctor will be granted courtesy privileges in association with a member of the active medical staff of his choosing, who will visit the patient every day.

In this way, the doctor-patient relationship is maintained.

As this is a hospital first and foremost for the people residing within the hospital district, no resident will be refused admission. Admissions have to be controlled for the benefit of district residents, Mr. Townsend said, although emergency patients from any area will always receive priority.

Nursing director wants best care for patients

On April 1 of this year, Miss Betty Drury assumed the duties of director of nursing for the Sturgeon General Hospital.

In this position, Miss Drury has responsibility for all aspects of nursing in the 100-bed active treatment hospital. These include patient care, staffing, efficient utilization of personnel, establishment of routine and educational programs.

Although the Sturgeon General Hospital will not operate a training school for nurses, it is affiliated with the Edmonton General Hospital School of Nursing which will be sending students to this hospital for part of their field training.

Obviously enjoying the demanding job of organizing nursing procedures and staff for a completely new hospital, Miss Drury reports that she has had the assistance of nine co-ordinators, head nurses and assistant head nurses who have been on staff since June 1.

Like the nursing director herself, they all appear thrilled with the opportunity to participate in the opening of the ultra-modern hospital and to know it intimately from the beginning of its operation.

With first patients slated for admission August 17, all hands have been participating in the job of readying the various wards and establishing procedures. Members of the nursing staff have been encouraged to contribute suggestions gained from experience in other hospitals, Miss Drury stated.

The phrase, "best possible care for patients" comes up again and again in conversation with Miss Drury as she reaffirms both a personal and hospital policy of making the patient as comfortable and free of anxiety as possible.

It will be the aim of the entire nursing staff to provide the very best of nursing care in the pleasant, efficient surroundings of the new hospital.

Miss Drury estimates that one-third to one-half of the total number of nurses who will be employed are presently on staff.

"We will be taking on one or two more during the remainder of August and another group will be coming in in early September," she said.

Miss Drury brings to her new position a varied background in nursing supervision and teaching.

Prior to her appointment to the Sturgeon General Hospital, she was on the staff of Charles Cammell Hospital, Edmonton, for four and one-half years. From 1967 to 1970 she was assistant director of nursing. During this time, she was involved in co-ordinating the move from the old to the new building when Charles Cammell Hospital took over its present premises.

Miss Drury was born in Edmonton, Alberta, and moved to Edmonton in 1942. She is a graduate of the Edmonton General Hospital School of Nursing.

She has held the position of head nurse, newborn nursery, Medicine Hat Municipal Hospital and following post graduate training in obstetrical nursing and ward management at Margaret Haig Maternity Hospital in Jersey City, N. J., she served at the same hospital as clinical supervisor, obstetrics.

SWIMMING POOL:

In spite of notices posted at the pool, watches, wallets etc. are still being left in the dressing rooms and unfortunately in some cases they are being mislaid or stolen.

The town is not responsible for any articles left or lost at the swimming pool so please leave all valuables at home.

It is always possible to leave articles of value at the desk with a member of the staff; it is much wiser, however, not to take them to the pool at all.

SWIMMING

Because of the civic holiday on Monday, Aug. 3, swimming lessons have been scheduled for Saturday morning, Aug. 8 and the public swimming session from 9 a.m. to 12 noon will be cancelled on that day.

On Sunday, Aug. 2, the St. Albert Swim Club took part in an invitational swim meet at Fort Saskatchewan and once again was in first place out of the seven teams which participated. They turned the tables on Drayton Valley who at this meet were second with 137 points to St. Albert's first with 416.

TENNIS

Members of the St. Albert Tennis Club are reminded of the novelty doubles tournament scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 5 at 6:30 p.m.

All adult members of the club are invited to participate both in the tournament and in the social gathering which will be held afterwards.

In the senior inter-club tournament, St. Albert tied with Hillcrest, 3-3. Representing St. Albert were: Lorne Wood, Frank Carnahan, Clark Warren, Judy Wood, Beryl Harding and Robin Hitchin.

In a match against Fort Saskatchewan, St. Albert were the winners with a score of 4-2. The team consisted of Dave Kirk, Lorne Wood, Clark Warren, Judy Wood, Ann Kirk and Beryl Harding.

In the junior inter-club tournament, St. Albert won against Jasper Place by 8-6.

Auxiliary fills need with volunteer help

A familiar sight to patients in the Sturgeon General Hospital will be members of the hospital's Ladies Auxiliary, pink-smocked volunteers from the hospital district who will operate a concession in the hospital.

Bylaws of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Sturgeon General Hospital state the organization's objects as follows: to assist the Sturgeon General Hospital in relation to patient care by volunteer service and by financial contribution and to promote good public relations with respect to the ### hospital.

In its first year of existence, the auxiliary has already begun to fulfill these aims.

Organized in May, 1969 with 11 members and Mrs. Pauline Ingall, Mrs. Audrey Burns and W. Gordon Townsend as advisors, the auxiliary now has a membership of 62.

The first executive of the organization was elected in November, 1969. Executive members are: president, Mrs. Jean Varney; first vice-president, Mrs. Doreen Pollard; second vice-president, Mrs. Simone Kluthe; recording secretary, Mrs. Sheila Brumell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Halwa and treasurer, Mrs. Doris Whittom.

Highlights of the year's activities included a Christmas bake sale and raffle of a deep fryer donated by the St. Albert Women's Institute, participation in the cancer fund-raising drive, and a strawberry tea convoked by Mrs. Doreen Pollard.

The April meeting held in Mortville drew the largest attendance of the year. Miss Betty Drury, director of nursing for the hospital, was guest speaker.

In May, the first annual blossom ball held at Mortville under the sponsorship of the auxiliary, proved to be extremely successful.

Cold, clinical atmosphere discouraged at hospital

While most people are not exactly exuberant at the thought of a stay in hospital, the philosophy of patient care at the new Sturgeon General Hospital is based on making the patient feel welcome and secure from the moment he is admitted.

"We want to get away from the cold, clinical approach that one often finds in larger hospitals," says Administrator Gordon Townsend. "We're trying to create a warm, friendly atmosphere and yet maintain the dignity of the institution."

Attractive decorating throughout the hospital will be a contributing factor to putting the patient at his ease, Mr. Townsend feels. Carpeting in the public entrance removes the "institutional feeling" from the patient's first contact with the hospital. Two private rooms out of sight of the general lounge area will be used for admitting patients.

Background music will be provided for the operating suite, anaesthetic induction room, case room and intensive care unit -- all areas where patients are under severest strain.

Patients slated for surgery will not be taken directly to the operating theatre where overhead lights, complicated equipment and masked hospital personnel can create tension. Anaesthetic will be administered in a special room adjoining the operating theatres, called the anaesthetic induction room.

This makes for a more relaxed patient, Mr. Townsend said, and contributes to "a better anaesthetic."

Wards are attractively decorated in soft shades of buff, yellow, blue and green with draw drapes in neutral shades and colored bedspreads used throughout. Also adding to the soothing effect created by interior decoration is an unbeatable view from any window of the hospital.

Wood-pannelled furniture in the wards is both attractive and functional and a far cry from stark hospital furnishings of a few years ago.

In the paediatrics section, nurses will wear pastel uniforms rather than the traditional white ones. Head Nurse Margaret Brown of paediatrics explains that children tend to be apprehensive of "people in white" and the pastel uniforms help them to adjust more quickly to a stay in hospital.

A central speaker panel located at each nursing station gives each patient instant contact with nursing staff. The supervisor can talk to the patient from the nursing station without the necessity of a nurse going to the patient's room to answer the call.

Hospital Auxiliary

Members enjoyed an opportunity to view the new hospital in June when a tour was arranged.

Latest fund-raising project planned by the auxiliary will be a tag day to be held in September. By fall the auxiliary hopes to have $1,000 to purchase additional equipment for the comfort of patients in the hospital.

President Mrs. Jean Varner has expressed thanks on behalf of the auxiliary to all those who have supported their projects in the past and has issued an invitation for all ladies of the hospital district who may have an hour or two to spare for a very worthwhile cause, to become members.

Medical staff executive named

The appointment of Dr. Walter Mirlin to the position of Chief of Medical Staff of the Sturgeon General Hospital has been announced by the board of trustees of the hospital.

Dr. E. J. Tworek has been named president of the medical staff.

Other medical staff executive appointments are Dr. E. N. Gramlich, vice-president and Dr. F. M. Fairfield, secretary.

Message from the board chairman

The Sturgeon General Hospital District No. 100 serves an area designated by the minister of health as a hospital district.

This particular district has a population of 30,000 people which includes large portion of the Municipal District of Sturgeon, the Towns of St. Albert, Morinville and Legal.

There are seven members on the hospital board appointed on a ward system. The members of the board are: J. W. Flynn, chairman (Wards 1, 2 and 3); L. Kluthe and S. Walker, (M.D. Sturgeon No. 90); J. de Bruijn, (Wards 3 and 4); R. S. Fowler, (Town of St. Albert); R. Blackburn, (Town of Morinville); L. St. Martin, (Village of Legal).

While we were working on acquiring a hospital for a good number of years, this work only became serious in 1965 when our board became official. An architectural firm, Rule, Wynn, Forbes, Lord and Partners were appointed and submitted a good number of plans before a design was finally approved by the authorities. The completion of our 100-bed active treatment hospital seems

Chief Engineer says plant second to none

Chief Engineer for the Sturgeon General Hospital, Ken O'Shaughnessy, is enjoying his work with a plant that stays in one spot.

With a 12-year history as an engineering officer in the Canadian Navy and senior engineering officer in the Canadian Coast Guard, he's used to working in a situation "where you don't send out for anything. If something breaks down on board ship, you've got to fix it one way or another before you can get home."

Mr. O'Shaughnessy held the position of chief engineer of the wind class ice-breaker, Labrador. He also served as one of the senior engineers of the cable-laying repair ship, John Cabot.

A native of Ottawa, he has been on staff at the new hospital since early winter, 1969. Prior to that he was in charge of phasing out the old Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton. He became chief engineer of the establishment with the retirement of William Dunn in the spring of 1969.

He remained with the Misericordia until the old plant was totally phased out and the hospital closed. He was responsible for converting the boilers to run at low pressure for the Alberta Government who bought the hospital.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy describes the new Sturgeon General Hospital as "a beautiful plant -- second to none in Alberta."

Message from the Chairman

somewhat like a dream and from time to time approached the velocity of a nightmare. The building, with all the equipment, will cost in the area of two and three-quarters millions of dollars and took 16 months to build.

We feel we have a well designed building which is functional for our needs. The general contractor, Harsim Construction, has made a very nice job indeed and has been very co-operative to work with.

Mr. Townend, our administrator, has been with us for approximately four years and is of great assistance to us, particularly in those areas in which we are not experienced.

Our departmental heads are appointed and our complete staff will be on hand for our opening date of Aug. 17, 1970. We will have a complement of 165 on staff to offer the best in patient care.

There are quite a number of highly qualified doctors on our active staff and many consultants have agreed to come in on a regular basis.

We are receiving much interest from highly qualified doctors and nurses, and this is due, I am sure, to the special type of equipment which introduces the patient care we will be able to offer. All services are provided by our hospital, including intensive care with monitoring system, x-ray, laboratories, etc. We are pleased that our patient care facilities will be second to none.

We have set up a priority to patients within our hospital district and they will be cared for by their own family doctor.

You may wonder how a 100-bed hospital will take care of 30,000 people, but I am sure you realize that action will be taken to provide more hospital beds when this becomes necessary. We are pleased with the concept set out by the Minister of Health, Mr. Henderson, concerning health complexes made up of all phases of care coming together in one general area.

At present, we have the active treatment hospital and located near us is a nursing home.

We expect an auxiliary hospital will be situated within this complex in the not too distant future, to supplement the total patient care for our district.

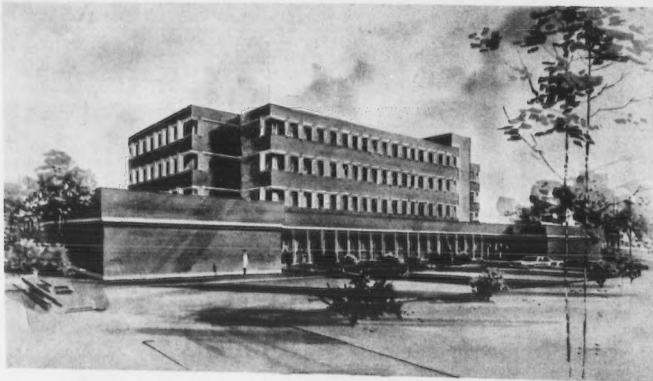

May the good Lord guide us so we may be worthy of this special task placed on our shoulders.

J. W. Flynn,
Chairman, Board of Trustees
Sturgeon General Hospital.

STEVE PALICHUK, LAUNDRY MANAGER
...demonstrates the flatwork ironer

It's always laundry day

Facing hundreds of pounds of laundry every day may seem like a dreary prospect to most housewives, but staff of the laundry department at the new Sturgeon General Hospital will have the situation well in hand with the best in automatic equipment to speed up the job.

Steve Palichuk, laundry manager, and his staff of three will work an eight-hour shift daily to keep the hospital supplied with clean linens.

The laundry room is equipped with two automatic washers capable of holding 30 pounds of laundry each as well as two large steam dryers.

Three automatically-timed pressers -- two large and one small one -- will handle uniforms and smaller articles while a flatwork ironer operated by two people will handle larger items such as sheets.

This machine is equipped with an automatic folder and cross folder which can be set to produce half - or quarter-folded linen. Mr. Palichuk estimates that with the machine set at top speed, a sheet could be completely ironed and folded within five or six seconds.

Clean laundry will be loaded on to laundry carts which will fit right into storage cupboards on the various floors, eliminating the need for unloading carts and loading shelves. Linen cupboards are all equipped with overhead pull-down doors to facilitate the movement of the laundry carts.

In addition to the regular supply of hot water for hospital use, a constant supply of 180 degree water will be available for laundry and kitchen use.

Observing a baby in an Isolette incubator with respirator are nurses Mrs. K. Breenstahl and Mrs. A. Kinney. The maternity floor of the hospital has two nurseries with eight bassinets in each. There is also a suspect nursery where babies born outside the hospital are observed for 48 hours.

Demonstrating intravenous track in the four-bed intensive care unit are Mrs. Noreen Campbell, day co-ordinator. She is watched by nurses (from left) Mrs. Faith Christman, medicine; Mrs. Marie Shrum, medicine; Mrs. Gail McIndoe, intensive care unit; and Mrs. Judith Andrews, assistant head nurse of ICU. This ward has special equipment for the care of severely ill patients.

Mannequin "Traction Charlie" appears to be receiving little sympathy from the nursing staff on the surgical and paediatrics floor despite the poor shape he's in. Head nurse, surgery, Mr. K. S. Rao explains his condition to: left to right, Miss Margaret Brown, head nurse paediatrics; Mrs. Joan Perrott, paediatrics; Miss Sherry St. Martin, certified nursing aid, surgery; Mrs. G. I. Tyneas, evening co-ordinator; Mrs. Nola Oester, surgery; Mrs. Angele Carrier, surgery; and Mrs. Jo Sinclair, surgery.

Chief Engineer

His background as a marine engineer has sparked an interest in design, he says, and he has enjoyed the opportunity of total involvement in the mechanical side of the operation of the hospital.

He states that it has been "a tremendous thrill" to have had a part in the building of what he feels is a unique hospital.

The building is heated by two packaged Napanees boilers and in addition there is a third unit -- a modulare steam generator capable of producing 125 pounds of steam in approximately two minutes.

"People who look at boilers generally think in terms of boiling water but instead of that, this unit generates steam. It's a very sophisticated system," he said. "I could come in at 8 o'clock in the morning and have everything running in a matter of minutes."

It is necessary to maintain two hot water temperatures in the hospital -- 180 degrees and 120 degrees. Water at the lower temperature is for general hospital use while the hotter temperature is required for laundry and kitchen use.

A Volvo packaged diesel generator has been installed as a back-up in the event of power failure. It will cut itself in and out automatically, Mr. O'Shaughnessy explained.

In paying tribute to the mechanical contractors, Cristman Mechanical and to the mechanical consultants, Angus, Butler Engineering Ltd., he said: "They've really done an excellent job. The workmanship has been beautiful."

Now that everything is in readiness to begin operation, he doesn't feel that there is any less challenge in the job.

"It will be exciting to maintain this building, working with people who take pride in it," he said.

Although Mr. O'Shaughnessy expects that some staff will be employed in his department by Aug. 4, he will still be on 24-hour call.

Besides his responsibility for all aspects of the physical plant he will also direct all maintenance and act as fire marshal, responsible for the evacuation of patients in the event of fire. In this connection, he has completed the Canadian Forces Damage Control and Fire Fighting Course.

KEN O'SHAUGHNESSY

Pioneer Couple Mark Golden Day

MORINVILLE -- On July 11 Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meunier of Morinville celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The fact that both Mr. Joe Meunier and his bride of 50 years, (the former Mrs. John Comeau), had previous marriages made it a unique occasion for children, grandchildren and relatives of both families, who are all old pioneer stock of the district.

The celebration began at the home of their only daughter, Mrs. Roger (Lorette) Champagne, where the happy couple met with their relatives Mr. and Mrs. Albert Como and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Comeau, who were to act as attendants at the church service and the evening celebrations to follow.

At St. John the Baptist Roman Catholic church a large congregation participated in the celebrated mass, with pastor George Primeau officiating, assisted by Rev. Lucien Tellier a nephew of the couple. Mr. Norman Chailfoux was organist and the soloists were Mrs. Rachel Bulger and Mr. Andrew Meunier.

Following the church services a reception and banquet was held for 185 guests at the Morinville Centre. Master of ceremonies was Mr. Matt Tellier. Seated at the headtable were the guests of honor, their attendants, the little flower girl, six year old great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meunier, Miss Jeanine Dunlop of Swan Hills, the ring bearer, and a great grandson, Raymond Youniss of Red Deer. Other head table guests were Mr. Rosalre Hebert, brother of Mrs. Meunier, children of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Champagne, Mr. and Mrs. Philippe Meunier of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meunier of Victoria, Rev. Father Primeau, Rev. Father Tellier, and Mrs. Matt Tellier.

Greetings and messages of congratulations were voiced by Mayor Arthur Stapleton, Mr. Keith Everitt, M.L.A., Rev. Father Primeau and Mr. Lionel Tellier, Q.C. Mr. Joe Meunier replied ably on behalf of his bride and himself. Messages were read from his Holiness Pope Paul VI, who sent a parchment scroll with his papal blessing. Other messages and scrolls were from Premier Strom and Lieutenant Governor, Grant MacEwan and a telegram from Rt. Rev. Edward Gagnon CSSR of St. Paul. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing and socializing with about 500 present. For the occasion, Mrs. Meunier was charming in a plum ensemble with beige accessories and a golden corsage with an orchid centre.

Fifty years ago on July 5, 1920, Mr. Joe Meunier and the former Mrs. John Comeau were married in a private ceremony at the parish rectory in St. Albert with Rev. B. Marchand, O.M.I. officiating. Present at this marriage were the late Mr.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meunier and Mrs. Emery Tellier of Morinville as witnesses, and the father of the groom, the late Thelphore Meunier, and the parents of the bride, the late Mr. and Mrs. Denis Hebert of Villeneuve and St. Albert.

Mr. Meunier has been a pioneer of Morinville arriving here in 1891 at the age of nine years with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thelphore Meunier formerly of Ste. Monique, Quebec, two sisters and four brothers. Today only one sister remains, Mrs. Albert Como at Chateau Sturgeon in Leduc, who accompanied her brother on this special occasion, together with her husband.

Joe farmed six miles west of Morinville for many years and married the late Miss Louisa Comeau of Villeneuve in 1906. He continued farming until 1937 before retiring to Morinville. Three children were born of the first marriage, one daughter Eudicia (the late Mrs. Frank Hebert, brother of Mrs. Meunier, children of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Champagne, Mr. and Mrs. Philippe Meunier of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meunier of Victoria, Rev. Father Primeau, Rev. Father Tellier, and Mrs. Matt Tellier.

Mrs. Meunier was the former Miss Emilda Hebert, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Denis Hebert, pioneers of St. Albert. They came from St. Michel/Yamaska Quebec in 1891 when Mrs. Meunier was three years old accompanied by her parents, three brothers and five sisters. Today only one brother survives, Rosalre Hebert of Youville Home in St. Albert. He was present at the celebration despite failing health.

In 1912 she was married to the late John Comeau also of Villeneuve. The young couple farmed in the district until Mr. Comeau's death in early 1919. He was a victim of the flu epidemic. There were no children from this first marriage of Mrs. Meunier.

The following year Mr. Joe Meunier and Mrs. John Comeau were united in marriage, beginning the happy 50 years they celebrated so memorably in July.

Local Sport Scene Loses Supporters

Members of the St. Albert sports scene will sadly miss Bob and Betty Mulloy and family who leave Monday for Portland, Oregon, where Bob has been transferred by his employer, the John Deere Company.

Residents of St. Albert for the past two and one-half years, the Mulloys have contributed greatly to sports in this area, both as spectators and participants. Bob has been coach of the St. Albert Willowbrook Saints Baseball team for over two years and this year was named president of the Offfield Baseball League. Both Bob and Betty have been staunch hockey fans and Bob was winner of the fan-of-the-year award presented by the St. Albert Comets Hockey team for the 1968-69 season.

His John Deere hockey toque has become a trademark in these parts and it will remain in St. Albert to remind hockey fans of its original owner. In a suitably solemn ceremony, the toque was turned over to another St. Albert hockey "regular", Ronnie Adams. Betty has been a faithful rooter at every baseball game and she admits that this year marked the first time in 25 years of marriage that she and Bob haven't celebrated their wedding anniversary on a baseball diamond. Son Mike is following in his father's footsteps and has been a member of the Saints baseball team.

The Mulloys also have two daughters — Debbie, who was recently married to Richie Perrault of St. Albert, who plays for both the St. Albert Comets and the Saints Baseball team and Lynn of San Francisco.

SERVICE to JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

Effective immediately, responsibility for services to juvenile delinquents in the Province of Alberta, including both juvenile probation and the care of juveniles held in custody, has been transferred from the Department of the Alberta Attorney-General to the Department of Social Development.

This important change will allow a great deal of flexibility in the treatment and rehabilitation of juvenile offenders. A wide variety of expanded resources; foster homes, group homes, a range of treatment settings and other programs will be accessible to young people in trouble. All these facilities are designed to assist young people and families to best insure individual development and reintegration into society.

It is the intention of the Department of Social Development to request community support and community involvement in the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency. The Department believes that delinquency results from a variety of personal, social, economic and circumstantial factors, and that individual citizens and communities must be active in correcting situations which encourage delinquency. Volunteers of all kinds, from a service club working on a special project to an interested individual concerned with a specific juvenile, will be solicited and utilized.

While the Department can provide basic resources, "people development" is not a task the government can perform alone. With the help and co-operation of the people of Alberta, the churches, business and industry, voluntary and private organizations and agencies, we hope to establish a more effective route back into the mainstream of society for young people in trouble with the law.

Hon. Raymond A. Speaker,
Minister
ALBERTA DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT.

Legal St. Emile's Church was the setting for a lovely summer wedding when Louise Boisvert was united in holy matrimony to Laurent De Champlain in a nuptial mass celebrated by Father Martineau before an altar banked with huge baskets of yellow and white gladioli.

Louise is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boisvert from St. Paul and Laurent is the son of Mrs. Lucien Cyr and the late Mr. Henri De Champlain from Legal.

The wedding music was played by Sister Corriveau and the soloist was Mr. Victor Douzlech.

The lovely bride was given in marriage by her father. She was radiant in her beautiful gown of peau de sole de romance, with her guipure lace bodice featuring a scooped neckline and an A-line skirt, with long lace puffed sleeves gathered into a wide band. Her long peau de sole train fell gently from the waist.

The groom's attendant was

MR. AND MRS. LAURENT deCHAMPLAIN

Jake De Champlain, brother of the groom, and the best men were Barry Groves, friend, and Brian Cyr, step brother of the groom.

The ushers were Ronny Boisvert, brother of the bride and Blair Cyr, step brother of the groom.

A banquet was held at the Legal Community Centre for some 150 guests. The bride's table was centred by a four-tier round wedding cake made by the groom's aunt Mrs. Frank Prefontaine.

In the evening a dance and reception were held for 350 friends and relatives who danced to the music of the Canadaires. Paul Emile Boisvert was master of ceremonies. The brother of the bride, Eddy Boisvert proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling to the Okanagan, West Coast and States the bride changed to a two-piece ensemble of teal blue crimplink with white accessories and pink roses on corsage.

Out-of-town guests came from Ottawa, Prince George, Grande Prairie, Calgary, St. Paul, Edmonton and Athabasca.

The happy couple will reside in Edmonton.

Home Canning Problems

By Pat Prymak
District Home Economist

HOME CANNING PROBLEMS

Why are Mrs. B.'s canned raspberries such a shade red and mine faded? Why are my pears pink? Why did my corn turn brown? This is the season when many homemakers are confronted with such problems of home canning. The following will provide solutions to some of these problems.

Faded Berries: Some varieties lose color more than others. Injury to berries during preparation causes escape of juice and hence loss of color. Storage in a light place may cause fading.

Floating Fruit: may be caused by too heavy a syrup or an underpacked jar.

Brown Discoloration in Canned Fruit: This is caused by oxidation. Air has been removed from fruit either because: (1) too low temperature was used or (2) of poor seal or faulty lids. Enzymes within fruit have not been destroyed by sufficient temperature. Use a hot rather than cold pack method to prevent this. Use standard processing time.

Pink Peas: May be due to overcooking, or too slow cooking. Some varieties of peas tend to turn pink.

White Sediment in Vegetables: White particles settling out in the bottom of containers is probably due to hard water. White sediment in peas or beans may be due to over-mature vegetables. Sometimes starch cooks out and gives the liquid a white look. White sediment in tomatoes indicates spoilage. It is caused by using a poor product and by core present.

Browned Corn - May be caused by: (1) overcooking, (2) canning corn at a poor stage of maturity or (3) using too much corn and not enough water in jar. Kernel corn should not be packed too tightly.

Foggy Liquid - This may be flat sour spoilage. To avoid, handle products rapidly and carefully. Use fresh products. Follow recommended procedure. Store in a cool place.

Sulphide Spoilage - Found particularly in peas. Food is often soft and has a very unpleasant odor. The trouble is due to the presence of bacteria which may be destroyed only at higher than boiling temperature (pressure canning). Botulism is fatal unless the product is boiled when removed from the container. Use a tested pressure cooker for canning all low acid vegetables (most vegetables except tomatoes). Bacteria thrive on low-acid foods; water boiling temperatures will not completely destroy these bacteria, only temperatures above 212 F will be effective.

Any additional home canning problems can be gladly answered if you write or call the district home economist at the Municipal Building, Morinville. CANNERS . . . BEWARE . . . 1. Don't pack jars too tightly especially corn, beans and lima beans - these expand during processing.

Leave 1 1/2 inches at top of jar. For other foods leave one inch on top.

2. Don't fill jars too full of liquid - leave one inch head space, and 1 1/2 inch space for peas, beans and corn.

3. Don't count time in boiling water bath before water attains a full rolling boil. Keep it boiling vigorously the entire time.

4. Don't have water in boiling water bath less than two inches above the jar tops, in order to prevent loss of liquid from jars.

5. Don't overprocess fruit "just to make sure." This causes it to float in the jar and will turn peaches, pears and apricots brown.

For safely in home canning use only recommended methods.

Bulletins available from the DHE office, Municipal Building, Morinville:

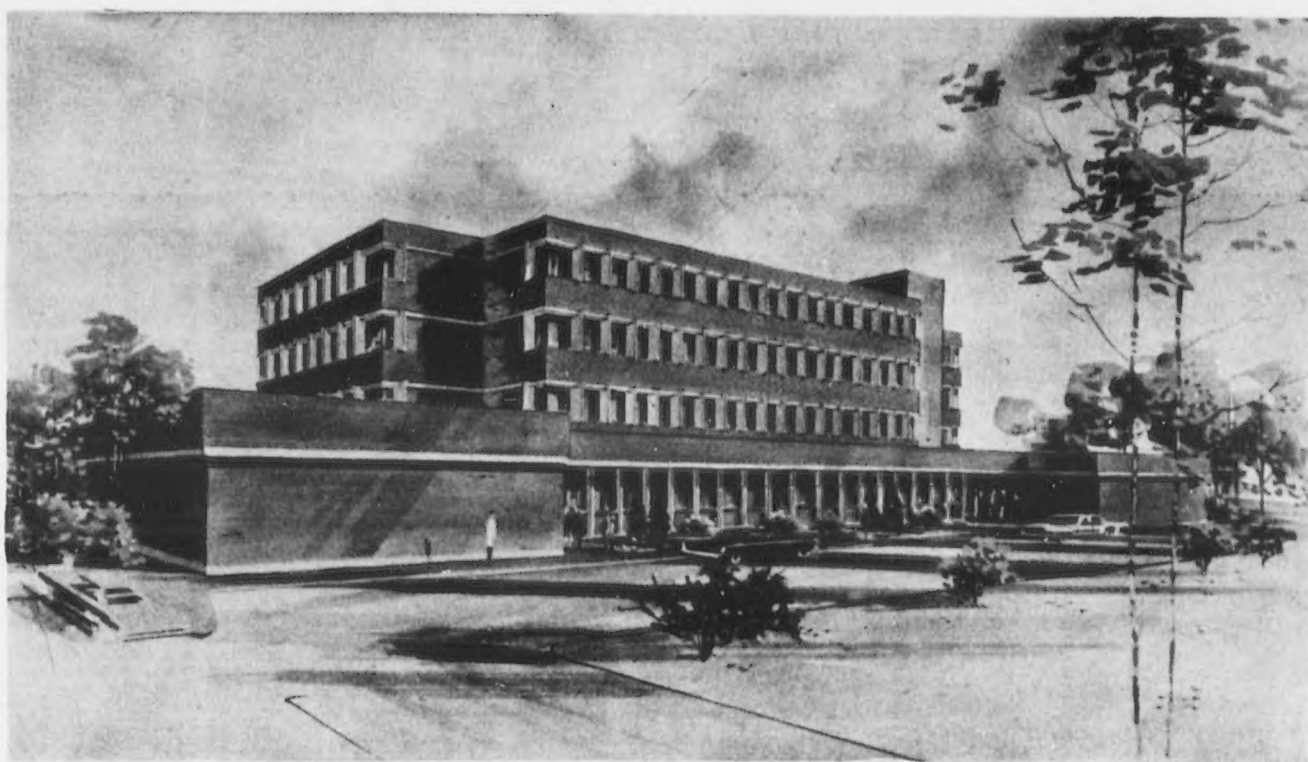

. . . Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables.
. . . Modern Guide to Home Canning.

The English language has changed considerably in the past three centuries. When King James I described St. Paul's Cathedral as "amusing," "awful," and "artificial" in the 17th century, the architect, Sir Christopher Wren, was not offended. The King simply meant that the cathedral was pleasing, awe-inspiring, and skillfully constructed.

ST. ALBERT AND THE NEW UNIVERSITY

The university is an excellent example of slow methodical work eventually bringing results. Planning does not bring immediate quick results, usually the benefits are not realized until much later.

On Monday, Nov. 23, 1964 I introduced the first report to council about the desirability of a university being located in St. Albert. The report was a result of a statement by Dr. W. H. Johns who stated on Nov. 18, 1964 to the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce that a second university would be needed near Edmonton.

In July 1966 a detailed brief was submitted to the board of governors and the provincial government pointing out that St. Albert was the best location for a university.

After many ups and downs, meetings, reminders and also at appropriate times saying nothing, the government announced on Jan. 21, 1970 that the university would be located next to St. Albert and later announced the site which is east of the town.

In the 1964 report the advantages for St. Albert were listed as:

1. The establishment of a university will give St. Albert the kind of publicity it needs.
2. It will provide more employment in St. Albert.
3. The establishment of a university could help in attracting specialized industries to St. Albert, industries of the type that do not require much water or waste disposal such as electronic industries.
4. The student population would introduce into St. Albert spending money of a kind that turns over rapidly helping the local economy.
5. It will create a greater demand for high value residential areas which St. Albert is in a position to provide.

These advantages are still valid. However there have been a number of studies since that time regarding the servicing of a new university. The conclusion that has been reached by the university commission is that a new university would need a new watermain from the City of Edmonton and that the sewage should be piped to the Edmonton disposal plant rather than having more lagoons along the Sturgeon River.

The construction of sewer and watermains to Edmonton for the university provides St. Albert with a wonderful opportunity that the town should now fully explore. The purpose of a satellite town is that such a town also provides employment (usually as much employment as there are employees living in the town). Our industrial areas are however not accessible to good roads and are not adequately served by all utilities. The town has had industrial zoning along the NAR tracks. The utilities needed for the university will come close to this industrial site allowing its development. Also the town should see to it that these utilities have surplus capacity that can be used later by the town. In the case of water this use is needed almost immediately upon completion of the main.

What about the university itself? We hope that the main entrance will be right at the end of Sir Winston Churchill Avenue. The road pattern will have to be such that the commuting students can reach the university without having to go through residential areas. Most of the students will of course commute from Edmonton. There will be some student residences and no doubt there will be a need for apartment buildings that cater to student housing. This type of housing should be very close to the university. Fortunately it is possible to co-ordinate the planning between the university authorities and the regional planning commission. This type of co-ordination in itself is unique.

Generally a university does not attract a major shopping centre next to it. There will be a need of a specialized centre which has such facilities as a book store, pizza joint and the like. The aim of the town should remain the develop the downtown area as its main commercial area.

The university will require staff and faculty which we hope will locate in St. Albert. It is expected that the faculty and staff will create a greater need for single family housing in the community.

St. Albert has become a university town. It would be a real shame if the town would squander away the opportunities that are now offered to it. If we want to make something of St. Albert we should remain masters of our own house!

M.K. Rees named business manager

In charge of the business section of the new Sturgeon General Hospital is Maurice K. Rees, a native of Craigmyle, Alberta.

Mr. Rees has come from Wetaskiwin where for the past four years he was business manager to the 135-bed Wetaskiwin Municipal Hospital and the 50-bed Wetaskiwin-Leduc Auxiliary Hospital.

Prior to that, he spent one and one-half years as administrator of the Border Counties Hospital in Milk River, Alberta, and four years as administrator to the Oyen Municipal Hospital. He also served four years as secretary-treasurer of the Village of Craigmyle.

Mr. Rees is a graduate of a two year hospital organization and management course sponsored by the Canadian Hospital Association and is completing a three-year course in personnel administration through the extension department of the University of Alberta. He is a member of the Hospital Administrators

Council of Canada.

Since his appointment as business manager in May of this year, Mr. Rees has been involved in the organization of the business section of the hospital. Although this is his first participation in the opening of a completely new hospital, experience gained through the opening of the 50-bed auxiliary hospital at Wetaskiwin and also a 35-bed addition to that hospital, is standing him in good stead.

Directly responsible to the administrator, Mr. Rees will look after all accounting procedures for the hospital as well as financial and statistical reporting of the hospital to the provincial government.

An office staff of nine who will work in the business section are undergoing familiarization courses in switchboard and accounting machines, said Mr. Rees.

"We were fortunate enough to be able to hire mostly hospital-oriented people," he said. "Hospital work is just a little bit different to other office work and it means a lot to get people with this experience."

Mr. Rees stressed the importance of the public relations role in office staff who have early contact with patients. Admitting is not done in the public eye, he said, but in two specially located rooms out of sight of the general waiting room.

Since accepting the position of business manager of the new hospital, Mr. Rees has been commuting daily from Wetaskiwin. However, he and his wife have purchased a house at 13 Mural Crescent and will shortly be making their home in St. Albert.

The couple has one son, 19, who will remain in Wetaskiwin to complete technical education courses.

MAURICE K. REES

VIC KALINKA

Vic Kalinka, in charge of the pharmacy at the new Sturgeon General Hospital is busily preparing his department in readiness for Aug. 17 - the date first patients will be admitted to the hospital.
